Ρηματική διακοίνωση-πρόκληση της Λιβύης στον ΟΗΕ – Πανηγυρίζουν τα τουρκικά ΜΜΕ (13/07/25)

Τη μέση γραμμή που έχει ορίσει η Ελλάδα πάνω στην οποία έχουν χαραχθεί τα οικόπεδα έρευνας υδρογονανθράκων, τόσο δυτικά όσο και νότια της Κρήτης, αμφισβητεί ευθέως η Λιβύη με ρηματική διακοίνωση που υπέβαλε στον ΟΗΕ. Πρόκειται για την πρώτη φορά που η Λιβύη αποτυπώνει επίσημα, μέσω εγγράφου, τη διεκδίκησή της σε βάρος της Ελλάδας, βασιζόμενη στο Τουρκολιβυκό Μνημόνιο.

2. ΚΥΠΡΟΣ

Το κυπριακό στο επίκεντρο της διεθνούς κοινότητας: «Η ίδια φωνή που υπερασπίζεται το Κίεβο οφείλει να υπερασπιστεί και τη Λευκωσία, τη Μόρφου, την Αμμόχωστο» (20/07/2025)

Αυτοί είναι οι βασικοί άξονες της γαλλο-κυπριακής συμμαχίας: Ο Μακρόν και ο Χριστοδουλίδης βιάζονται να κλείσει το συντομότερο το τελικό κείμενο (20/07/2025)

Η νέα δυναμική στις σχέσεις Γαλλίας και Κυπριακής Δημοκρατίας, διαμορφώνει νέα δεδομένα τόσο σε διμερές όσο και σε περιφερειακό επίπεδο. Είναι σαφές ότι το πλαίσιο που συζητείται την τελευταία περίοδο, αναδεικνύει νέους άξονες πολιτικής δράσης και ενίσχυσης των ήδη υφιστάμενων, που περιλαμβάνονται στη στρατηγική ατζέντα του 2016, η οποία θα επικαιροποιηθεί και αναβαθμιστεί.

Γιατί τα Ηνωμένα Έθνη κρατούν το Κυπριακό στον αναπνευστήρα; Αλαζονικοί και είρωνες παρουσιάσθηκαν ο Φιντάν και ο Τατάρ, με κατ'οίκον εργασία ο Χριστοδουλίδης και ο Γκουτέρες (20/07/2025)

Η νέα προσπάθεια στο Κυπριακό, στην άτυπη Πενταμερή Διάσκεψη για το Κυπριακό, μπορεί να σκόνταψε για άλλη μια φορά στις τουρκικές μαξιμαλιστικές αξιώσεις, για αναγνώριση των «πραγματικοτήτων», ωστόσο δεν «έπεσε κάτω». Δεν ναυάγησε.

Η Ευρωπαϊκή Ένωση (Ε.Ε.) παραμένει σταθερά προσηλωμένη στην επανένωση της Κύπρου, σύμφωνα με τα ψηφίσματα του Συμβουλίου Ασφαλείας του Οργανισμό Ηνωμένων Εθνών (ΟΗΕ) και τις αρχές της Ένωσης.

Germany a Threshold Nuclear Weapons State, Could Develop Bomb in 'Matter of Months' – IAEA

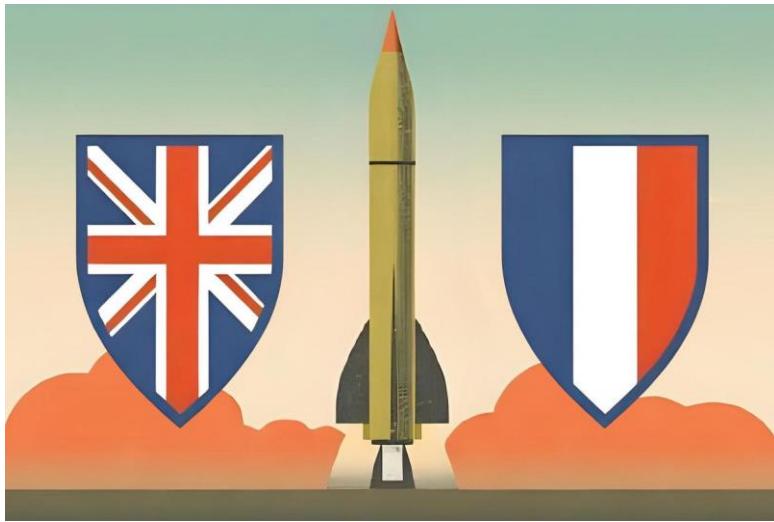

(10/07/25)

International Atomic Energy Agency Director General Rafael Grossi has highlighted Germany's position as a threshold nuclear weapons state, warning that it retains access to the technologies, nuclear material, and knowhow, to develop a nuclear weapon within "a matter of months." He nevertheless noted that "these are purely hypothetical assumptions," as Berlin continued to affirm its commitment to the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons. Despite not producing its own nuclear weapons, Germany has committed to an investment estimated at $10.9 billion to modernise its nuclear delivery capabilities with the procurement of 35 F-35A stealth fighters from the United States. These will train to employ nuclear weapons under a nuclear sharing agreement with the United States, under which American B61 nuclear bombs stored in Germany will be transferred to the Germany Air Force in the case of a major war. Nuclear sharing has raised significant controversy for providing countries with wartime access to nuclear weapons.

Von der Leyen's Moment of Truth
(08/07/2025)

This week's European Parliament vote on whether to dismiss Commission President Ursula von der Leyen could mark a turning point for the EU. It offers mainstream parties a rare opportunity to test whether European democracy has matured to the point where accountability takes precedence over institutional loyalty.

Money talks: What the EU-27 want from the next budget

Brussels has grand budget ambitions. But without unanimous support from the member states, changes will be blocked. Here's where they all stand.

(14/07/2025)

In a nutshell:

Thirteen countries, including France, support a bigger budget. Seven countries, including Germany, oppose an increase.

Twelve countries, including France and Germany, support introducing 'new own' resources. Six countries are sceptical.

Nineteen countries, including France and Germany, reject an outright merger of cohesion and CAP. But they may still favour a move in that direction, as long as their favourite programmes survive in some shape or form.

Thirteen countries, including Germany and France, are in favour of increased cash-for-reforms in the next budget. Nine are against.

Fifteen countries reject cuts to cohesion and CAP.

Greece

Bigger budget: No position.

New own resources: No position.

National envelopes and reform-for-cash: Lean no. Greece is among the 14 countries that rallied against making regional funding conditional on national reforms in early July.

CAP/Cohesion cuts? No. CAP and cohesion are the top Greek priorities, a source close to the matter told Euractiv.

Why Russia's Foreign Minister Just Thanked the 'Heroic Korean People's Army' For Saving Kursk

(13/07/25)

During a three day visit to the North Korean capital Pyongyang, Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov expressed thanks for the support of the Korean People's Army in expelling Ukrainian and supporting Western forces from the Russian Kursk region. Ukrainian forces supported by Western volunteer and contractor units launched their first protected assault into internationally recognised Russian territory in August 2024, and were expelled only in April the following year. The operation sparked considerable criticisms from both sides, in the West for leaving a large Ukrainian force exposed and far from support leading to it taking tremendous casualties for little gain, and in Russia for leaving the country's borders inadequately defended and thus placing a large civilian population in harm's way. The Russian Defence Ministry estimated that Ukrainian forces took 76,000 casualties during the eight month assault, with Western estimates citing lower but still catastrophic figures.

Over 12 Million North Korean 152mm Heavy Artillery Shells Sent to Russia: Pyongyang's Supplies Increasingly Vital to War Effort

The Russian Armed Forces are estimated to have received over 12 million rounds of 152mm artillery shells from North Korea, according to a new report from the South Korean Defence Ministry's Defence Intelligence Agency. "If calculated with 152mm single shells, the number of supplied shells is presumed to have reached more than 12 million," the agency's report stated. The Russian Army was by the end of 2024 already estimated to have received up to 9 million 122mm and 152mm artillery rounds from its neighbour, as well as growing numbers of guns and rounds from an entirely new calibre previously not fielded by the service, namely 170mm, which have provided a much longer range. No estimates have been provided for supplies of 122mm and 170mm shells. The Russian Army's reliance on North Korean supplies has continued to grow, with many Russian artillery units having come to rely almost entirely on ammunition supplied by North Korea, while at least six Russian artillery units currently source between 50 and 100 percent of their munitions from the country.

Iran Receives Emergency Airlift of Chinese Air Defence Systems as Israel Considers New Attacks

(08/07/25)

The Iranian Air Defence Forces have received Chinese-made long range air defence systems, according to new reports from regional sources. An unnamed Arab official speaking to a local media outlet noted Iranian efforts to "back up and reinforce" its air defences, and that the information on these efforts had been passed on to the United States. The reports follow successful Israeli and American efforts to penetrate Iranian airspace during attacks from June 13-24, which saw Israeli F-35 stealth fighters and U.S. Air Force B-2 stealth bombers operate deep inside the country, while older aircraft such as F-15s and F-16s launched air-to-surface missiles from safer distances. Israeli officials have indicated that further attacks on Iran are under consideration, primarily to prevent the country from sustaining ballistic missile production, which makes the strengthening of Iranian air defences appear highly urgent.

Notwithstanding Chinese leaders' stated global vision, the regime's diplomacy must serve the interests of its domestic political economy first and foremost. Filling a sudden void in global leadership left by America's withdrawal is not necessarily aligned with this objective.

Guns, Governments and Greed: The Global Nexus of War and Power

(11/07/25)

Ironically, war is the most stable economy and political strategy in a world with democratic principles, global institutions, and human rights declarations. From Ukraine to Gaza, Iran, Sudan to Syria, and proxy wars in the South China Sea and Indo-Pacific, the world is becoming red. Modern nations, armament manufacturers, and political elites are increasingly enmeshed in a profit-driven war ecosystem, which is more unsettling than unresolved conflicts.

NATO Looks to the Future

(09/07/25)

Europe is grappling with a rapidly evolving security landscape and needs to plan ahead to deal with looming challenges. NATO Secretary-General Mark Rutte has highlighted two critical issues facing the alliance: the debate over military conscription in Europe and the possible threat of a coordinated China-Russia strategy that could spark a global conflict. These concerns, raised in the wake of the NATO summit in The Hague, underscore the alliance's urgent need to bolster its defenses amid rising geopolitical tensions.

NATO members plan to increase defense spending to 5% of GDP by 2035 — a "quantum leap," according to the military alliance's chief, Mark Rutte. But there are doubts that the most indebted members really afford the hike.

After Brexit: E3. New treaty puts UK, Germany and France back at the heart of European security

Friedrich Merz's visit to the UK only a week after that of Emmanuel Macron symbolizes a return of the E3 format – France, Germany and the UK – as the driving force of European security.

(18/07/2025)
Within the complex European security architecture, the flexibility of the E3 format and the triangle of bilateral treaties between France, Germany and the UK are both its biggest strength and a key weakness. By bringing together the three largest European military spenders, it has the potential to bridge NATO and EU initiatives. But to become a central pillar of European security the E3 format needs to branch out to Poland and other European partners across NATO and the EU. It cannot by itself cover the gaps between the EU and NATO that were created by Brexit.
